

TAL CHERNIAVSKY

MALWARE RESEARCHER

EXPERIENCE

MALWARE RESEARCHER

IDF

2023 - Present

Malware Researcher and Reverse Engineer specializing in the analysis of advanced malware, APT campaigns, and sophisticated threat actor toolkits. Responsible for performing in-depth static and dynamic analysis of malicious binaries, reverse engineering obfuscated code, identifying persistence and evasion techniques, and uncovering C&C functionality to support threat intelligence and incident response efforts.

COURSE COMMANDER

IDF

2023 - 2023

Commander in a cybersecurity course that teaches everything from the basics of computers, R&D to firmware and product management.

KERNEL R&D

IDF

2021 - 2023

Developing and implementing secure operating systems to be used in the organization's products. Experience with U-boot, Linux Kernel, Device Drivers, Board Bringup, BDI, BusyBox, Toolchain and more.

EDUCATION

2022 - 2026

COLLEGE OF MANAGEMENT ACADEMIC STUDIES

Bachelor of Computer Science, Major in Cybersecurity

2017 - 2020

MAGSHIMIM + MAGSHIMIM PLUS

Minimal internship in NSO

2014 - 2020

MAKIF G - ASHDOD

Completed Requirements for High School in the Gifted Class

CONTACT

052-584-0707

talcher1302@gmail.com

Tal Cherniavsky

SUMMARY

Malware researcher (3+ years) and embedded Linux developer (2+ years) with a strong cybersecurity background, leadership experience, and expertise in reverse engineering, secure systems, and low-level development.

SKILLS

- Malware Analysis
- Reverse Engineering
- Security Research
- Threat Intelligence
- Vulnerability Research
- Linux Kernel Internals
- Embedded Programming
- C Programming Language
- Python Programming Language